

The dog and the boy went to catch some fish with a net and they decided to, and then they met a frog but first they saw it and then they met a frog and then they were running up on top of a tree to get, to catch the frog to put it in the bucket. But the, but they were about to fall on the frog and the frog was scared so they jumped on the other one. He went, and then the dog fell in the river and the bucket fell on his head. And then they wanted to have. And then the frog jumped on his bucket. And then they were all saying. And then he accidentally caught his dog instead of the frog. They went back home. And then the frog was sad and he went to go, he was sad so he followed them. He found these and he followed then and there were confusing maps and footprints and then they were having a bath and he said hello and said hello and he said hello and then the frog started to jump in and then he jumped in and then he was standing on top of the dog's head. The End.
